NEWSFLASH -DECEMBER 2014

Airlines Charging for No Shows - Please note that most airlines are charging a fee for no shows if you do not cancel the ticket before flight departure. Different airlines have different rules, i.e. Emirates Airlines must be cancelled at least 4 hours before departure. The charge is +- R1 500 depending on the class booked. This penalty will be charged upon rebooking if the ticket is re-useable. All booking classes although in economy have different rules. We suggest you check the rules of your ticket with your consultant.

UK eases transit visas for South Africans - As of the 1st of December, South African nationals who hold a valid visa for Australia, Canada, New Zealand or the USA will be able to use them to transit airside via the UK to anywhere in the world without obtaining a Direct Airside Transit Visa. Travelers who hold visas to these countries can transit the UK (airside) given that they provide an expanded list of exemption documents in place of a Direct Airside Transit Visa.
