10 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD USE GRAYSTON TRAVEL

24HR EMERGENCY SERVICE

Grayston Travel provides 24 hour access to one of our travel consultants who are fully equipped with a laptop and cell phone (+27 82 891 1970), for your extreme emergency travel needs, because our travel consultants work closely as a team, they are all aware of each other's clients.

ACCOUNTABILITY

A travel agent's job is on the line with every trip. Travel agents have a boss to answer to or they are the boss.

KNOWLEDGE

Travel agents have been doing the job for years and know all the ins and outs. Instead of deciding where to go based on anonymous comments on a website, speak to someone who does this for a living and knows what they're talking about.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

When booking an expensive trip, travellers want to see everything and experience the best a city has to offer. A travel agent can ensure travellers money goes a long way and make sure they don't miss that amazing restaurant down the street or the special event going on in the day there in town, a travel agent knows where to go and when to go.

SETTING AN ITINERARY

While some people enjoy "just winging it" a travel agent can give a clear-cut schedule of what will be happening on a day to day basis and keep clear records of everything that is included in the trip.

BUDGETING

A travel agent can help map out exactly how much a trip will cost, so there are no surprises. Does that excursions on Monday include lunch, for example or do you have to buy your own? Does it pay to take the drinks package on the cruise ship or pay for excursions in advance? A travel agent can guide you and save you money.

INSURANCE

Things happen. A travel agent can offer insurance in a number of ways from guaranteeing that the hotel is safe and the company running the excursion won't rob a traveller, to actually advising on which insurance policies are needed, from trip cancellation to medical emergencies. They also insure that travellers will have the correct travel documents so they don't end up missing their plane or cruise. When things do go wrong travel agents have the resources and the contact to get travellers to the head of the line.

RESOURCES

At the touch of traveller agents finger tips they have resources a traveler simply does not.

EXCLUSIVITY

A Travel agent knows the new destinations and the new places in them.

TIME SAVING

Spending hours and weeks researching the perfect trip can take up a ton of time during a busy work week. A travel agent will spend a little time getting to know their client and what they are looking for and then put together an entire vacation customized for them.

LEVERAGE

Can't book a room at a place you really want? Had a last minute addition to a trip but all rooms are booked. Travel agents spend years developing long-term relationships and travel companies understand how important their repeat business is. Travel agents have leverage with most hotel companies and resorts and they are more likely to get what they want than a single consumer. consumer.
